

Ms. Anna Hallam

Director for Trade and Development Cooperation
National Board of Trade

Edvin Johannesson is a Trade Policy Advisor at the Swedish National Board of Trade, specializing in international trade in services. An economist by training, he combines empirical analysis with his broad experience of EU and multilateral trade policy to deliver evidence-based expert advice to governments and the private sector.

Before joining the Board, Edvin covered relations with the Middle East and Gulf regions at the Permanent Representation of Sweden to the EU in Brussels. He has also coordinated EU trade policy at the Swedish Ministry for Foreign Affairs and served at the Permanent Mission of Sweden to the UN and WTO in Geneva, focusing on WTO negotiations. His earlier experiences include providing strategic guidance to public sector agencies and international organizations at a prominent Swedish consultancy.

Edvin holds an MSc in International Economics from the Stockholm School of Economics and a BSc in Politics and Economics from Lund University, including one year of studies in Southeast Asia.